Push past hesitation. Step into textured-hair mastery. This isn't your average curl class—it's a deep dive into the artistry and science of working with curls and coils, where color and cut come together to create balance, movement, and impact.

The Texture Equation is a two-day Keune Academy experience for stylists ready to elevate confidence across all curl patterns. From live model transformations to mannequin practice, you'll learn to approach textured hair with strategy and artistry—delivering results that are both intentional and unforgettable.

Day 1 explores the science of curls, placement strategies that honor texture, and toning with precision for control and condition.

Day 2 shows how shape amplifies shade—then it's your turn to cut and style color-treated curls for maximum movement, definition, and dimension. This is more than technique. It's consultation with confidence. It's artistry that respects individuality. It's the next step in textured-hair mastery—where shape and shade work in harmony.

Why You Should Attend:

- Learn curl-pattern analysis & placement strategies tailored to textured hair
- Watch live transformations that merge cut and color for maximum impact
- Gain hands-on practice with mannequin work—color placement and post-color shaping
- Finish textured looks with confidence—styling, drying, and defining

Walk away with refined strategies, proven systems, and the inspiration to deliver results your textured-hair clients will celebrate. You're not just coloring and cutting curls—you're creating the equation.
